Background of the Initiative:

The roundtable discussions that will take place at the Quadriga Forum in Berlin on 28th April 2017 form part of a wider initiative to embed global health innovation in the G20 related to dialogues such as the Compact with Africa, the G20 Action Plan on the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and the G20 Blueprint on Innovative Growth. The participants, sponsors and delegates of the roundtables are facilitating a multi-stakeholder dialogue, bringing together public, private and not-for-profit entities, embassies and representatives from G20 dialogue forums. Speakers include both political figures and leaders of initiatives at operating at the vanguard of protecting populations through innovation in G20 priority areas such as Antimicrobial Resistance (AMR), pandemic preparedness and poverty-related neglected diseases (PRNDs).

Building on several months of dialogue, exchange and strategic development through work with the Think20 (T20) Task Force on the 2030 Agenda and Business20 (B20) Health Initiative, the outputs of the roundtable will include a Call to Action on Global Health Innovation.
